Dear Mr. Gorjan,

I am sending to you under separate cover and by regular mail what photographs I have of Brancusi when he was erecting the Endless Column which was at my home in France and is now a part of the Brancusi section at the Museum of Modern Art in Paris.

The prints I am sending to you are the only copies I have as the negatives were lost in a fire in my laboratory some years ago. So please consider these photographs as a loan to be returned to me after they have served your purpose.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Edward Steichen
